“That brain can regenerate itself, renew itself, make itself young, fresh, untouched by all the pressures, by the various shocks of modern society and it is one of the major functions of meditation to keep that brain completely whole.” - J. Krishnamurti in India 1974-75

INTRODUCTION

These meditative weekend retreats offer a quiet and healing time to explore some of the most fundamental questions of our daily living. We are going to inquire, listen, observe and meditate as friends in a relaxed, trusting and affectionate atmosphere. The primary intention of these retreats is that our entire day becomes a meditative process by taking a complete break from our daily mechanical way of living and allowing our minds and hearts to deeply rest and rejuvenate.

The daily schedule will include short introductory talks, meditative dialogues, silent observation and listening, long walks in nature and meditation.

Riversong is the venue of these retreats which is a small beautiful village nestled like an oasis in the Alps of Switzerland, about two hours from Geneva International airport. The place also offers an age-old healing Swiss tradition of warm salt-mineral baths.

"I think it is essential sometimes to go to retreat, stop everything that you have been doing and look at them anew. You would then let in fresh air into your mind. You would be open to the mysteries of nature and to things that are whispering about us, which you would not otherwise reach..."

-J. Krishnamurti
